

Excellence You Can Trust

When you invest in LIFESPAN, you invest in an organization committed to the very highest standards of quality, accountability, and compassionate care.

We are proud to share that LIFESPAN has once again earned the highest level of accreditation from CARF International—a three-year national accreditation. Even more remarkable, our recent survey concluded with zero recommendations, an extraordinary achievement that reflects 100% conformance to more than 2,500 internationally recognized standards.

LIFESPAN has maintained a three-year CARF accreditation continuously since 2004, demonstrating more than two decades of unwavering commitment to excellence. This year's accomplishment places us among an elite group of organizations nationwide. Of more than 9,500 CARF-accredited providers representing over 68,300 programs, only 258 organizations received a zero-recommendation survey—placing LIFESPAN among the top 3% in the nation.

This recognition is more than an award—it is a promise to the individuals and families we serve. It affirms that every program, every service, and every interaction is guided by best practices, accountability, and a relentless commitment to helping people reach their fullest potential.

It is also a reflection of the confidence our donors, grant partners, and community supporters place in LIFESPAN. Your generosity makes it possible for us to invest in our people, strengthen our programs, and continually deliver services that meet the highest national standards.
